Dear Hiring Team:

I am writing to apply for a Product Engineer role. I sit with users, shape the workflow, and ship the smallest honest version. Product decisions become gates in the software: what is visible, what is deferred, and what the product is not allowed to invent.

At BariAccess I built TREI inside a bariatric practice's real onboarding: intakes, remotes, membership, staff admission, and daily program work. First-release decisions live in the software — Free Basic versus Path A, preparation readiness, patient language rules, Healthspan hidden until destination release — and public surfaces stay fail-closed. I partner with a scientific / product counterpart rather than acting as a product manager.

The same habit shows up at Alex Road Service and Insightful Care: sit with the operator, cut the workflow to what staff will actually run, then ship.

I am looking for a seat where the job is to make the product smaller and truer. Thank you for considering my application. I can be reached at (908) 230-6948 or zakiymanigo@gmail.com.

Sincerely,

Zakiy T. Manigo
