RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Ernst & Young LLP

New York, NY

Financial Services Technology Consultant

October 2024 – April 2026

- Partnered with client leadership on an AI and Data strategy initiative, identifying data integrity gaps and developing strategic recommendations to improve downstream processing and regulatory compliance outcomes.
- Supported business development efforts by drafting proposals, statements of work (SOWs), pricing plans, and reviewing RFPs for large financial institutions and money services businesses (MSBs), contributing directly to deal structuring and pipeline growth across new and existing clients.
- Conducted current-state assessments and developed target-state operating models for customer due diligence, performing gap analysis and translating findings into strategic roadmaps presented directly to senior client leadership.
- Led technology transformation strategy engagements including SharePoint implementation, owning end-to-end project execution, and managing client budgets while coordinating cross-functional stakeholders across multiple business lines from kickoff through delivery.
- Designed scalable process playbooks and adherence tracking frameworks by working directly with process owners, enabling consistent execution and measurable compliance tracking across complex multi-stakeholder environments.
- Built sophisticated reporting and tracking tools in Excel and SharePoint to establish operating rhythms across teams, improving visibility, accountability, and execution speed across client engagements.

EY Parthenon (Strategy & Transactions – Corporate Finance)

New York, NY

Transaction Real Estate (TRE) Associate

October 2025 – December 2025

- Presented valuation findings and strategic conclusions directly to directors, executives, and partners, synthesizing complex assumptions and market data into clear, confident recommendations under scrutiny.
- Analyzed client asset metrics including cap rates and absorption rates against live market benchmarks, surfacing where performance deviated from market norms and translating findings into EY's formal recommendations on asset valuation conclusions.
- Conducted competitive market deep-dives using CoStar, RCA, GreenStreet, and CBRE to benchmark valuation assumptions and identify where client models diverged from market trends.
- Analyzed client financials and operating data including DCF models, rent rolls, and pro formas to assess performance drivers and challenge assumptions that deviated from market reality.
- Supported valuations across institutional portfolios ranging from $350M to ~$2B, rapidly context-switching across asset classes and deal structures in a fast-moving, high accountability environment.

FloroStone Realty Inc.

Roselle Park, NJ

Real Estate Salesperson | Transaction Coordinator

February 2024 – October 2024

- Successfully leased 30 residential rental properties, one commercial retail space, and managed the sale of an investment property, totaling $700,000 in sales volume in 8 months.
- Built and maintained relationships with property managers and landlords across multiple markets in NJ, regularly navigating tenant communication issues, lease renewals, and operational challenges on their behalf throughout the leasing process.
